

December 2017

For more details on awards, check under “Kudos” at fcps.net

SCHOOL BOARD RECOGNITIONS

Gia Jimenez of Northern Elementary was a runner-up in the Kentucky Association for School Social Workers logo contest.

Aisha Ndayishimiye of the STEAM Academy received an Outstanding Youth in Philanthropy Award.

Anne Boggess of Henry Clay and Zsombor Gal of Paul Laurence Dunbar high schools were selected as national Youth Leaders of the Year.

Social studies students from Henry Clay High School earned awards at this fall's Model United Nations.

A veterinary science team from Locust Trace AgriScience Center took first place in a state FFA contest.

The eighth-grade A-team from Edythe J. Hayes Middle School won the citywide football championship.

The middle school band from SCAPA at Bluegrass Band received a 2017 Mark of Excellence Award.

The Pride of the Bluegrass marching band from Lafayette High School won yet another state championship.

Daniel Hill, the P.E. teacher at Tates Creek Elementary, is the new president of the Kentucky Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance.

Soraya Matthews, a director of Curriculum, Instruction & Assessment, received the superintendent's 212 Degrees Award after responding to a late-night call to help a former student from another school district.

December's 212 Degrees Award recipients included the FCPS team that helped make the Frederick Douglass High School ribbon-cutting ceremony a resounding success.