

HOPE

In these dark times a seed sprouts
A glimmer of hope
All we know is to keep it together
Shadows cover it but hope feeds it
It thrives once a seed then a sprout
These dark times can't hold anything back
We chase away the dark and bring in the light
We will hold our heads up high in these days
We stand tall together fighting off beasts
We clear away weeds and bring in flowers
We let nothing bring us down instead we stand up tall
We all together are suffering
We are all fighting this invisible creature off
We have lost so many lives and those bright futures have fluttered away
All of us will overcome the losses this crisis has brought us together
That will get all of us through this
The light will come back soon just keep it together
A cloud of sorrow hangs above our heads but one day the wind will blow it away

Hope matters...
