

Good Afternoon VPE Families,

Old Man Winter did not help us out today with this weather we are getting and is stopping us from getting back into the building with our K-2 students tomorrow. FCPS has declared tomorrow we will be closed and have an official snow day without any NTI-2DL. Tomorrow's instructional day will be pushed to Friday, March 19th which was originally a non instructional day for students. We are hopeful that we will be able to welcome our in person K-2 learners back to the building on Wednesday. Please watch for announcements and communication from the district as to closings/delays.

Just a reminder that each family will need to fill out this VPE Family Assurance of Student Health Agreement one per child and must be completed prior to sending your child back to in person instruction. Please use the hyperlink above or reference it on the VPE homepage to complete the Health Assurance Form.

Additionally, FCPS has compiled resources and information for families to help support their students' social and emotional needs as we transition back into in person learning. These helpful resources can be found at the following link.

Finally, With the weather tomorrow & possibility of people without power we are going to move the VPE PTA book club to Tuesday, February 23 @ 7:00 pm. If anyone is interested in participating in the PTA Book Study – “Why are all the Black kids sitting together in the Cafeteria?” please feel free to join @ 7:00 via the following Zoom link: <https://fcps-net.zoom.us/j/94132167732> You don't have to have read the entire sections to enjoy the open and honest conversations. Hope to see many with us next week!

We hope all our VPE families are safe during this storm and we hope to see you on Wednesday!
